

ROLE OF EDUCATION IN EMPOWERMENT OF WOMAN IN INDIAN

Seminar on role of education in empowerment of women in India was organised by K.S. College, Laheriasarai, Darbhanga, today on 08.07.2018. in the auditorium of K.S. College Darbhanga. A one day seminar on women empowerment was organised in the chairman of Prof. Amrendra Prasad Singh, Principal, K.S.College. in the present era of Socio-cultural, economic political and religion conflicts in women. The present paper in based on the role of education of women empowerment. It is now early recognised that educationists, Planners, and administrators have to play their role along with the parents in developing, self-extreme among women which in generally threatened.

Dr. M.K. Sultania Head, Deptt. Of Psychology addressed seminar and said that the women are expected to be tender passive submissive, dependent, co-operative and love oriented. They have less decision-making responsibility and have more sentimental feeling. Miss Bandana Kumari & more than Student of D II (H) presented paper and stressed the importance of educations in women and girls. She said that girls often get opportunities for making decision in respect of their marriage participation in social norm and professional carreer. Dr. Ranjana Singh, Assistant Prof. in Psychology K.S. College, expressed vote of thanks its more number of student participation in seminar. There were thirty students participants actively in seminar.

